

Executive Function and Study Skills Series

How Does Your Executive Function?

A workshop designed to help parents and educators understand brain develop specifically executive function skills and their impact on academic, social and emotional development

Organization Strategies That Really Work

A workshop designed to help teachers structure their classroom and implement strategies that promote organizational skills and meet many of the accommodations in IEP's and 504 Plans

How to Take the Work Out of Homework

A workshop designed to help parents support their children with homework including how to structure the environment and strategies to help children learn academic skills and improve study skills

Study Skills: Get more bang for your buck!

A workshop designed to help parents and educators assess learning styles, teach how to “play the game of homework”, and more effective ways to study based on learning style preferences